

Inspired Faith, Effective Action: A Hands-On Training in Doing Religiously-Grounded Social Justice Work

Saturday, November 23

Gather at 9:30 a.m. Program 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Unitarian Universalist Church of Arlington

4444 Arlington Blvd. Arlington, VA

(main entrance is off of George Mason Drive)

How can UUs better establish a rhythm of study, action, and reflection to deepen our social justice work and be more effective in choosing how to go about our efforts?

How can we feel comfortable and effective advocating for our moral issues with Congressional members and their aides?

Come learn and practice these selection and advocacy skills, hopefully with a team from your congregation.

UUSJ and the UUA's Congregational Advocacy and Witness and Multicultural Growth and Witness offices and a Congressional Legislative Aide will present this training.

Presenters:

Jennifer Toth, Standing on the Side of Love Campaign Manager

Annette Marquis, UUA Program Director for Multicultural and LGBT Ministries

Benjamin Cook, Staff Assistant for Representative Chris Van Hollen

Individuals are welcome, but congregational teams are encouraged.

Register at www.uusj.org. There is no registration fee. A special collection for UUSJ will be requested.
