MILLION MOMS MARCH

We are 1 million strong in spirit.

In the wake of the recent unjust murders at the hands of police officers and vigilantes, people in cities across the nation have risen up to demand justice in their communities.

For every individual killed, there is a mother who has suffered a loss greater than any one person should have to bear.

We, the mothers of this movement, are calling on all concerned community members to join us in our fight. Together we unite to stand against police brutality and racial injustice to demonstrate our love and determination to protect our children and our country.

This Mother's Day Weekend, the Mothers for Justice United will march on the US Department of Justice in our nation's capitol, Washington, DC.

Will you stand with us?
